"Through they affirm
A dandy germ
Lurks in the sweetest kiss,
Let's hope the day
Is far away
Of antiseptic bliss.
To sterilize
A lady's sighs
Would simply be outrageous—
I'd much prefer
To humor her
And let her be contagious."

THE LEDGER a few days ago noted the fire which destroyed the business property of Messrs. John Elman & Sons at Portsmouth. Mr. Elman is the father-in-law of Mr. Ben Davis, and the latter suffered a loss in the flames of about $1,000 worth of his wedding presents.

Saturday's Commercial Tribune had an account of three of its Fair representatives losing themselves and getting outside the gates at the World's Fair and being compelled to fork over a half dollar before they could enter the grounds again. As is usual in all great events, this city had to be represented. Miss Wilson will tell you all about it on her return.

The C. and O. excursion train yesterday morning dropped off about two hundred Maysvillians, now residing in Cincinnati, and who embraced this opportunity of visiting their old home. They may wander far and wide, yet they always retain an affection for old Maysville and come back on every convenient occasion.

Mr. John J. Klipp's fine harness horse has mysteriously disappeared from its stable in Fourth street. The horse was carefully looked after and the stable door properly fastened Saturday night. On entering the stable Sunday morning Mr. Klipp was greatly surprised to find an empty stall and the horse nowhere in sight. P. S.—Horse found this morning on Hill City pike.

"There Isn't One Really Good Printer in Five Hundred."

Printers' Ink—the leading journal on the printing of all kinds—has the following to say: "There are thousands of printers in this country, good, indifferent, and a lot of bad ones. There isn't one really good printer in five hundred. Intelligent advertisers are willing to pay for good printing, no matter where it comes from."

Printers' Ink knows what it is talking about. Poor printing is a bad investment—it's worse than a blank. A business man's stationery or booklet is like a traveling man—if it's neat, well-addressed and to the point, the first impression is good and your chances of doing business on the strength of it are good.

We realize this. We keep abreast of the times. We know what good printing is and produce it. We are pretty careful not to let a bum job get onto our presses. No press in the country can better our printing and we want you to know it.

THE RIVER ROUTE

Parties of Elks Pass on Their Way to Cincinnati

May, a pretty little steamer with a streamer from stem to stern on which was painted in large red letters—"B. P. O. E., 231, from Stubenville to Cincinnati," landed about noon at the upper wharf Saturday.

The party aboard consisted of Colonel J. C. Bigger, Majors R. M. Mahon, W. C. Taylor and Roy McClave.

Through Commodore Phister and Colonel Robert Ficklin they were soon made acquainted with a number of Maysville Elks who thereafter made the time pass pleasantly during the remainder of their stay here.

Among the places visited was Pogue's Distillery. The well-known hospitality of this firm is a by word and it is not necessary to say that their larder was stocked free gratis with some of Pogue's best vintage.

Having received a supply of Big Bone water in like manner from Mr. Ficklin, they were prepared for any emergency that was likely to arise.

They left yesterday morning at 7 o'clock for Cincinnati, and if kind expressions is an indication, their stop at Maysville will be an oasis to which they will revert in years to come with fondest recollection.

The steam launch Iada from the port of Marietta arrived last night with Lodge 477, B. P. O. E., bound for Cincinnati. They left this morning happy as larks. The following composed the party—Captain, Steve Davis; Pilot, Henry Early; George L. Clarke, John H. Becker, C. W. Dowling, F. E. McGrew, Jacob Katzenstein, E. S. Alderman, William Deltor, Charles Pape, Edward Flanders, H. L. Timblin.

A number of Lodges have already reported, but it will be about two weeks before it can be definitely told which has secured the most members.

Mr. George Ort, formerly of this city, had an unusual suit for damages brought against him a few days ago at West Union. The plaintiff is Mrs. Amanda Frost of Peebles, O., who wants $1,800 for the death of her father, John W. Thompson. She alleges that the latter was an habitual drunkard and that Mr. Ort persisted in selling him liquors. On one of his spree last March he upset a lamp at his home, destroying the house and he himself perishing in the flames.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The welt of this attractive material for tub frocks is white linen. The warp is colored cotton producing an effect of delicate Chambray weave. On a clear colored surface of blue, pink, tan, reseda, raspberry or gray are charming jacquard figures in white between corded stripes. Other patterns show colored figures on white stripes or colored stripes on white grounds—about 15 charming designs in all. The fabric launders perfectly and it is needless to tell discerning women how linen endures wear and tear.

THE Evening Bulletin having conceded the election of ROOSEVELT, it is now in order for the band to play.

THE Times-Star has joined the fuzzy-wuzzys. Four sticks of stndhorse headlines introduce a ten-line item that is not important enough for a "filler" at the bottom of a rat-poison ad. And it talks about "yaller" journalism!

THE Fiscal Court of Fayette county has at last been spurred to duty. There have been charges and charges that there has been corruption in high places, and Judge Brillock has employed expert accountants to go through the books and report the exact conditions. It is to be hoped that the experts will not use any whitewash.

ALL is not harmony in the Democratic family at Frankfort. During the recent St. Louis Convention, when a few fellows were shooting wind through their hats about nominating BECKHAM for Vice-President, Attorney General N. B. HAYS handed down this opinion—

"BECKHAM would not strengthen the ticket a particle—in fact, I don't very much know whether he would carry Kentucky for the ticket. He is, of course, in the saddle, but there is a good deal more opposition to him and his Administration among Democrats than you have an idea of."

In this connection it would be fair to state that the Governor and his Attorney General have not been on the best of terms for some time, owing to a clash of opinions several months ago, which was aired in the papers at the t

MR. BRYAN, the most eminent political fakir of the age, may now be safely labeled a "has been," and it won't be long until he will be one of the best abused men who ever shuffled marked cards.

This is the way the "great moral wave" in St. Louis is tipped off by a resident and a couple of Delegates to the recent National Democratic Convention—

"Say," remarked one Delegate to another, "we'll go out to the Fair this evening and see the illumination."

"You can't go out and see anything?" said a resident. "The Fair is closed up on Sundays."

"Well," said the stranger, "this is a religious country. A man just asked me to go to a gambling-house, and all the bars are open, but a fellow can't go to the educational Fair."

Not content with the Coroner's inquiry into the killing of R. LEE SUTER near Louisville, the Attorney for Jefferson county says he will probe the matter to the bottom; but when he goes up against the fact that Mr. SUTER was of a party of other prominent Louisville officials, including heads of the Police Department, who were in a gambling camp in company with a number of prostitutes, it is likely that he, too, will put the lid on.

If a railway crew allows a hobo to ride on the train and he is killed, the Company is sued for damages, the lawyer claiming that the crew should not have allowed him to ride. And now the Chesapeake and Ohio has been sued at Huntington for $5,000 damages because one of its officers arrested a fellow who was riding on one of its trains without permission and without price. It looks like the damage suit business is bound to thrive.

Shipments of anthracite coal from the mines in the month of May aggregated 5,285,079 tons, which is larger than in any month ever reported, except April of this year and January of last year. This heavy movement does not include the usual volume of shipments by lake, as lake navigation is largely suspended on account of the strike; and the demand is still very active.

ENGINEERS' STRIKE

Public Determined Not to Yield to Organized Brutality

Chicago Chronicle.

With the failure of the unpopular and inhuman livery drivers' strike staring them in the face the stationary engineers have inaugurated a strike which is just as exasperating to the public and just as certain to collapse in disgrace.

Men who are in charge of steam boilers and who enter into a conspiracy to leave them suddenly and unexpectedly, so that there will be danger that they may explode and destroy human life, are capable of anything whatever in the criminal line. If they were firemen in the city fire department they would desert their posts the moment a great fire threatened the city with destruction.

One of the desperate measures the strikers have resorted to is the arrest of the non-Union men who have taken their places without having licenses, but no Justice of the Peace with any self-respect will encourage such proceedings. In an emergency like an explosion or a railroad disaster, any man is justified in tying up an artery, setting a bone or administering an opiate. In like manner when hundreds of stationary engineers leave their engines and boilers at the same moment any one who has the ability has the right to do the work without a license as long as the emergency lasts.

Meanness will never win in labor troubles. Meanness has been the rule lately, but public sentiment is steadily turning its back on the labor Union in consequence of it. The engineers may rest assured that people are not going to freeze or blow up, for all their meanness, and that their strike, like the livery drivers' strike, will only serve to make the public more determined than ever not to yield an inch to organized brutality.

And Witnessed the Macadamizing of Our City "Canals"

When General Grant was President he made vigorous protests against the expenditure of so much money for the improvement of small streams not large enough to permit the safe passage of a small boat. A Virginia Representative says that on one occasion an appropriation had passed in the Rivers and Harbors Bill for the dredging of a stream in that state. The President did not approve of the expenditure and consulted several Representatives, among them one from Virginia.

"I crossed that stream in 1864," said the President.

"Yes, yes, you did, Mr. President. You know its location, and I trust the bill will be signed," responded the law-maker from Virginia.

"Yes, I remember the stream distinctly, and it strikes me, gentlemen, that it would be just as well to macadamize it," said the President.

The meeting was largely attended, nearly all the different sections of the county being represented.

The program consisted of Scripture reading, prayers, delightful songs, and short, helpful addresses.

The "Field Worker," Rev. T. C. Gebauer, is certainly the "right man in the right place." The importance of the Sunday-school work was emphasized by him and others.

The addresses of Mr. H. C. Curran, Dr. John Harbison, Dr. J. C. Molloy, Rev. R. M. Giddens, Rev. W. W. Horner, Mr. J. T. Kackley, President Duley and others were full of good things.

The following officers were elected for the year 1905—

President—C. C. Coburn.
Vice-President—George H. Frank.
Secretary—Miss Mary Noyes.
Assistant Secretary—Miss Anna Bauer.

Superintendent Home Department—Miss Mary Finch.

Superintendent Cradle Roll—Miss Ella Wallace.

Superintendent House-to-House Visitation—Dr. J. C. Molloy.

The music was furnished by the talented singers of Germantown.

The dinner, prepared by the people of Shannon and vicinity, surpassed the expectations of the "hungriest" visitor. It consisted not only of substantial, but of the delicacies, and all in the greatest abundance, for which the visitors showed the highest evidence of appreciation—eating heartily.

If there be one spot on the face of the earth more favored by nature than any other, that spot must be Shannon.

The many friends of Mrs. T. K. Proctor will be glad to hear that she is able to be out again.

HEALTHY MOTHERS.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Frosche's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any long, throat or bronchial trouble herself for her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup, soothes house-ness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief, and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. For sale by Henry W. Ray, Postoffice Drugist.
